

Grant Writing 101 Webinar
Presenter: Stephanie Gerding
LibraryLinkNJ, The New Jersey Library Cooperative
March 16, 2011

Sophie Brookover:#LLNJ_Grants101
Susan Pober:Good morning
irena telyan:hello
Sophie Brookover:To clarify, the twitter hashtag for this session is #LLNJ_Grants101. :-)
Sophie Brookover:Hi, Everyone!
Joanne Roukens:Hi, everyone!
Ellen Smith:Ellen Smith: hello from Ramsey; sorry I'm late Jessica Adler:Hi Ellen!
Sophie Brookover:Hi, Ellen -- we've just begun! Welcome back!
Sandi Cronce:Yes we do - a three-year plan!
Kristen Kirk:yes
Ellen Smith:Not a formal one.
Jacqui DaCosta:Yes, we have one
Laverne Mann:Yes.
Ellen Smith:39154000698977
Jennifer Meister:yes
Christine Pelchat-Miller:Not yet. But hoping to get one going.
Ma Lei:We have one and on-going developing it.
Patricia Bruder:Yes - under revision
Susan Pober:we're in the beginning of the process
Barbara Fodor:not yet
Beatrice Priestly:working on one
Lisa Bogart:
yes, but will be doing one again shortly
Anne Wodnick:Not yet, but working on it
Jackie Zuzzi:we are working on one judy vioreanu:no
dawn Ferris:Finished one.
Ellen Smith:oops. just noticed i zapped a barcode into the chat. nothing like multitasking at the Ref Desk!!
Barbara Fodor:well defined, well thought out plan that has room to grow
Christine Pelchat-Miller:building a YA area
Lisa Bogart:one that has a defineable beginning, middle, end with defineable, finite needs
Sandi Cronce:Reaches a lot of the library's customers.
Oriana Kopec:involving many people
Patricia Bruder:Identifying partners early on Beth Cackowski:something that can be evaluated for success
Ellen Smith:looking for a specific idea?
Scott Davan:A project that is actionable and forward thinking
Beatrice Priestly:raises stakeholders and improves the community dawn Ferris:A plan that will allow the it to sustain itself after the grant period.
Anne Wodnick:a projet that is sustainable Sandi Cronce:Has measurable benchmarks.

Christine Pelchat-Miller:Visibly answers real need in the community
Laverne Mann:Small success expanded to a larger project
Kathleen Connors:Strengthens partnerships.
Sandi Cronce:That's really cool!
Kristen Kirk:I am
Lisa Bogart:Ni, but I use it!
Kristen Kirk:N, i wasn't involved in writing the grant, but our branch does benefit.
Marge Dombrosky:Photograpy grant for teens
Patricia Bruder:Afterschool programs
Teresa Carlton:NJCH history grant
Kristen Kirk:We've hosted a lot of programs for teens - connecting adults and teens
Ellen Smith:Marge, did you have to overcome the idea that your town is too "affluent" to bother applying for grants?
Laverne Mann:World Art. Made Local. shows, demos, wkshps from Bollywood, Belly dance, gospel..
Ellen Smith:Anyone out there had to overcome the notion that your town is too affluent to bother with grants?
Barbara Fodor:I would be looking at doing a grant that focuses on teens anyone have anything they have done dawn Ferris:Circle of Sound - which consisted of Playaways - target population was handicap facility outreach, Buttonwood Hospital for the residents and for all levels of the public community.
Barbara Fodor:I have a blank screen does anyone see something
Sophie Brookover:Barbara, I believe Ocean County Library has done a great deal of grantwriting for teen Sophie Brookover:Sorry, that should read "teen services"
Marge Dombrosky:Ellen, our town is not affluent. It has a diverse economic population.
Barbara Fodor:Thank you I will check with them
Scott Davan:County College of Morris is a Foundation Center.
Laverne Mann:Programminglibrarian.org
Patricia Bruder:Reach out to your local WIB (Workforce Investment Board)
Oriana Kopec:National Endowment of Humanities
Ma Lei:My colleagues received a research grant from Emerald publisher.
Sandi Cronce:County Sheriff's Department
Sandi Cronce:They provide books for our book club.
Jessica Adler:April 13, 2 pm
dawn Ferris:The workshop on April 13th is not a duplicate?
Jessica Adler:the one on March 21 is a duplicate of thi session
Jessica Adler:I'll go over details for these at the end!
Barbara Fodor:s it productive to outline a proposal for funding you would need, then look for grants and modify your work
Patricia Bruder:Love the quote!
mary kearns-kaplan:Thank you, Stephanie. Very helpful!
Teresa Carlton:Thank you!
Jennifer Meister:thank you
Beatrice Priestly:thanks!
Ma Lei:Thank you so much. It is a very helpful start and very encouraging.
Stephanie Gerding:Thank YOU everyone!
Anne Wodnick:Thank you
Krystie Fulton:yes, thank you

Marge Dombrosky:Thank you
Scott Davan:Thank you, this was very helpful
Susan Pober:This was very helpful!
elena Tsomaeva:thank you
Jacqui DaCosta:Thank you
Barbara Fodor:Thank you Stephanie, this is a great beginning judy vioreanu:Thank you
Kathleen Connors:Very goo. Thanks.
Lisa Bogart:thank you. Valuable info.
Cara:thank you!!
Laverne Mann:Thank you Stephanie, Jessica & Sophie!
Sophie Brookover:Thanks for coming,veryone!
Ellen Callanan:Thank you--very helpful.
Sophie Brookover:Great questions & ideas being shared here!
dawn Ferris:Thank you so much everyone.
Madeleine Taylor:ty!
Beth Cackowski:Thank you, Stephanie!
Lindita Cani:Thank you!
Ellen Smith:Great Webinar!
Irene:Thank you very much